Different Business model We have for your convenience

STAFF AUGMENTATION

Most customers choose this option since it allows them to have direct and transparent communication with the person working on the project and gives them complete control over the production process. Customers can hire dedicated developers from us on a monthly basis fee for each developer.

FIX COST

Most customers choose this option since it allows them to have direct If you have a project with clear and well-structured requirements, then Fixed Price Model is for you, where you have to pay a decided amount or fixed price for the entire project.

The benefit of a fixed price model is that it requires minimum supervision from your side. We will take care of all the aspects of the development process, project management, quality analysis, and assurance care.

HOURLY MODEL

The hourly approach is ideal for clients with long-term projects where requirements change frequently and the scope of the project is unclear. This model provides you with the most flexibility by allowing you to adjust project specs at any moment. This model will save both the time & money because of its flexibility.
